

Research Fellow for Leadership

Marine Corps University (MCU) is seeking applicants for a Research Fellow to research and assess common factors that characterize “great” Marine Corps units. The research will involve both quantitative and qualitative analysis and will culminate in an article or paper suitable for publication in a professional journal. Ideal candidates should be scholars with teaching and research experience in areas of leadership and ethics. This is a one year appointment, anticipated to begin on or about January 1, 2015. Would consider full or part-time contingent upon qualification.

Applications should arrive no later than November 15, 2014. To receive full consideration, applicants should submit electronically in pdf format a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and names and contact information for three references to:

MARINE CORPS UNIVERSITY
RESEARCH FELLOW SEARCH COMMITTEE
ATTN: MAJOR VICTOR CHIN
3094 UPSHUR AVENUE
QUANTICO, VA 22134
Victor.Chin@usmc.mil

Marine Corps University is located 30 miles south of Washington, D.C. MCU is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges to award master’s degrees. Marine Corps University Foundation, also located in Quantico, will compensate all aspects of the Research Fellow for Leadership. For additional information, please visit online: the Marine Corps University www.mcu.usmc.mil and the Marine Corps University Foundation www.mcuf.org.

The Marine Corps University is an Equal Opportunity Employer.